

Design Practicum

Spring 2020
DSGN 270/570-401
T/Th 1:30-4:30PM
David Comberg

Design Practicum is an intermediate studio that provides real-world experience for students interested in collaborating with clients, fabricators, other designers.

Students are involved in all aspects of significant design projects, completing research and preliminary design from initial concepts through visualization and design development, to a comprehensive design proposal and presentation. Students work in collaboration with clients and colleagues to reach proposals that are mutually successful.

2020 collaborators include:

- Penn Center for Innovation
Branding for emerging companies
- Rebel Ventures
Retail food packaging
- Arabic Studies and Common Press
Printed poetry portfolio
- Weitzman School of Design
Exhibition graphics and animation

Past collaborators include: Penn Museum Library, Farm to City Markets, Mütter Museum, Penn Libraries Director's Office, Al-Bustan Seeds of Culture, Teachers Institute of Philadelphia, LEAP (LGBTQ Employees At Penn), Fisher Fine Arts Library, Penn Praxis, Community Legal Services of Philadelphia, Mt. Airy USA, The Woodlands, Project UPstart, Provost's Office Penn Art & Culture, West Philly Coalition for Neighborhood Schools, Penn Museum, Friends of Clark Park, The Food Trust, Arthur Ross Gallery, Sustainability in Action, Common Press

Register Now. Space is Limited.